"My personal experiences in India were life changing (I realize how cliché this sounds). India is by far the most stimulating place that I have ever had the opportunity to live in. I will forever cherish the moments I have experienced and the relationships I have cultivated."

Short-term study student at Miranda House and IIT-Bombay in 2017

"India is a country that is magical and hyperstimulating. Prepare yourself to see, feel and live things that you have never experienced before. Abandon all preconceived notions about how things should operate and be adaptable. Be kind. Laugh when you find yourself in an unbelievable situation."
